

Hypersensitivity condition

deacon , a 2 year old male neutered boxer , presented to csu dermatology service for a recheck of allergic dermatitis . it was reported that deacon 's pruritus is relatively seasonal , worse in the spring and summer , but does not completely go away in the winter . deacon 's main problem areas were his paws and his muzzle . melissa recently had been adding nettles to deacon 's food and saw a noticeable decrease in pruritus for a few days but not so much anymore .
