

DEAP Dataset

EULA (End User Licence Agreement)

By signing this document the user, he or she who will make use of the dataset, agrees to the following terms.

1. Commercial use

The dataset may only be used for academic research. The dataset may not be used for any commercial purposes. Commercial purposes include, but are not limited to:

- training or proving the efficiency of commercial systems,
- using screenshots of subjects from the database in advertisements,
- selling data from the database,
- creating military applications

2. Responsibility

This document must be signed by a person with a permanent position at an academic/research institute (the user). Up to five other researchers affiliated with the same institute for whom the user is responsible, may be named at the end of this document which will allow them to work with this dataset.

The user must apply using their affiliation's email address and provide a link to a webpage in their affiliation that verifies their position in the affiliation and their email address.

3. Distribution

The user may not distribute the dataset or portions thereof in any way, with the exception of using small portions of data for the exclusive purpose of clarifying academic publications or presentations. Only data from participants who gave consent to have their physiological or audiovisual recordings used in publications and presentations may be used for this purpose. Consent information for each participant is included in the participant questionnaire file. Note that publications will have to comply with the terms stated in article 5.

4. Access

The user may only use the dataset after this EULA has been signed and returned to the dataset administrators. The user must print and sign the EULA, then scan it and upload it using the online application server that can be found at the dataset's webpage.:

<https://www.eecs.qmul.ac.uk/mmv/datasets/deap/index.html>

The user may not grant anyone access to the database by giving out their username and password.

5. Publications

Publications include not only papers, but also presentations for conferences or educational purposes.

The user may use EEG recordings or audiovisual recordings of a participant in publications only if that particular participant has explicitly granted the permission to use his or her recordings in publications. Consent information for each participant is included in the participant questionnaire file.

All documents and papers that report on research that uses the DEAP dataset will acknowledge this by citing the following paper:

"DEAP: A Database for Emotion Analysis using Physiological Signals", S. Koelstra, C. Muehl, M. Soleymani, J.-S. Lee, A. Yazdani, T. Ebrahimi, T. Pun, A. Nijholt, I. Patras, IEEE Transactions on Affective Computing, vol. 3, no. 1, pp. 18-31, 2012

6. Changes

The DEAP dataset administrators reserve the right to change this EULA at any time; users will be informed about changes beforehand and given the choice to opt out of the new EULA. Opting out will render the previous EULA void (and thus the user will lose their right to use the dataset).

7. Misuse

If at any point, the administrators of the dataset have a reasonable doubt that the user does not act in accordance with this EULA, he/she will be notified of this and will immediately be denied access to the database. In this case, they will need to delete any copies of the dataset that they have created.

8. Warranty

The dataset comes without any warranty, the DEAP dataset administrators can not be held accountable for any damage (physical, financial or otherwise) caused by the use of the database.
