

In the summer of 2005, a picture that people have long been looking forward to started emerging with frequency in various major Hong Kong media.

With their unique charm, these well-known cartoon images once again caused Hong Kong to be a focus of worldwide attention.