

Nadine likes tea . She always drinks it .

This diagram illustrates the coreference and argument structure for the sentence "Nadine likes tea . She always drinks it .". At the top, a horizontal line represents the sentence. Below it, the words "Nadine", "likes", "tea .", "She", "always", "drinks", and "it ." are spaced out. Above the line, four curved arrows represent coreference (COREF) relations: one from "Nadine" to "She", one from "tea ." to "it .", and two from "always" to "Nadine" and "tea .". Below the line, four curved arrows represent argument (ARG) relations: "ARG0" from "Nadine" to "likes", "ARG1" from "likes" to "tea .", "ARG0" from "She" to "drinks", and "ARG1" from "drinks" to "it .".

