GeekWire will record the interview, upload it to their YouTube page and promote it.

Branded, noise-reducing private meeting space

For every 200 full-conference tickets purchased to AWS re:Invent at $1,949 each ($150 discount), you will receive one 16'x16' noise-reducing meeting room at re:Invent for all four days of the conference. This meeting space has customizable plexiglass panels that can be branded with your company's identity - complete with upscale furniture and meeting space for up to 8 guests, lighting, fans, and nightly cleaning.

Terms & Conditions

- Upon buying re:Invent tickets through the Group Ticket Offers Program (“Program”), we may provide to the company certain benefits, including discounted ticket prices and additional benefits listed in the Group Ticket Offers Program prospectus.
- The benefits each company qualifies for under the Program are assessed on a per transaction basis.
- The benefits each company qualifies for under the Program are only redeemable by billing their AWS account.
- All benefits are subject to availability.
- Any hotel room blocks rooms must be reserved by September 30, 2024 or they may be forfeited.
- Any event tickets are subject to the AWS Event TERMS AND CONDITIONS, including the cancellation provision. AWS reserves the right to revoke benefits under this Program if any of the qualifying event tickets are cancelled.
- No benefits are offered retroactively or as part of individual ticket purchases outside the Program.
- Each company that purchases tickets in the Program needs to designate one representative to manage group codes and redemption of Program benefits.
- Tickets purchased under this Program may not be resold or transferred to persons outside of the original purchasing company.
- AWS reserves the right to provide substitute benefits of comparable or greater value (as reasonably determined by AWS) if we cannot for any reason deliver any benefit under the Program.

FAQs

How do Group Ticket Offers work?

The number of tickets you purchase for re:Invent determines which incentives you are eligible to receive. Group package offers are available via billing to your AWS account.

Do I need to know the names of the people who will be using the tickets at the time of purchase?

No. You do not need the ticket users information at time of purchase.

Can I make multiple purchases on different days and still qualify for the Group Ticket Offers?

No. Discount eligibility requires ALL passes be requested on the same day on the same form.

If multiple people at my company wish to take advantage of the Group Ticket Offers, can we combine requests?

You may combine requests for your company so long as all requests are submitted at the same time, on the same request form. We cannot combine purchases requested over different days. A single point of contact is required to receive and manage associated group offer benefits.

What are my payment options?

The volume discount offer is only available through the Group Ticket Offers request form (Purchase tickets now) and billed to your AWS account. Please email our customer support team for more details.
