

Danish Data Science Academy - Call for applications:

Data science Pre-Graduate Retreat 2024

- Are you a Bachelor's- or Master's student in a data science- or related programme?
- Would you like to learn more about pursuing a PhD in data science?
- Are you uncertain about the career paths a PhD will offer?
- And do you want to hear more about how data science methods and applications matter in the world around you?

This is your opportunity to spend a day with 50 equally curious students, and to meet a line-up of junior and senior data scientists from academia, public sector, and industry/start-ups ready to share their experiences and answer your questions.
