Abstract: At the first year of students in diploma, they have ENGLISH subject to study. The most commonly used medium to express oneself is language. First-year college students can face a variety of challenges when it comes to learning practical English. So we have developed this software for the students because of this they learn the English language in better way. We have converted all there manual practicals in online so they don't need to do any written work. And it is easy to use so the faculty can teach directly using the software.
