To the Recruiting Team,

I had the pleasure of meeting some of your team and learning about the great opportunity with Lockheed Martin at the IST Internship and Career Fair at Penn State on September 19, 2022. After hearing about all the great training opportunities and mentorship program, I knew the Analytics Intern position was the perfect opportunity for me. I'm currently a junior at The Pennsylvania State University earning my Bachelor degree in Applied Data Science with a minor in Information Sciences and Technology. Over the past 3 years I have developed the skills and knowledge to be successful in this position.

Through my education I have had several opportunities to work within teams to reach a common goal. In my data management course, I worked with a team of 5 on a company sponsored project to analyze their large data sets to create analyzed models and a develop business decision-making solution for the company to implement. At the end of the semester, we presented our solution to the company representatives and the class. Out of 8 teams we were one of three teams selected by the company to utilize our solution. During my time at Penn State, I have strengthened my organizational and time management skills by taking a minimum of 15 credits per semester, holding a board member position for the Black Entrepreneurs of Tomorrow, and working part-time at Wegmans. These experiences have taught me how to prioritize and organization my time successfully as I have maintained a 3.2 GPA and was elected into a board position within my student organization after a year of membership.

I would be grateful for the opportunity to bring these skills and knowledge to this Analytics Intern position while gaining the skills and experience for a future career as a data analyst or data scientist for Lockheed Martin in the future. I appreciate your time and consideration of my application. I look forward to hearing from your organization soon. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Emilia Lopez
