

MBServer Collection of Programs and Libraries Listed on Technical Resources Page

MBServer is a collection of programs and libraries offering both client and server Modbus TCP functionality. This includes both stand-alone servers and clients, as well as command line utilities and libraries which may be incorporated in your own application. The software is compatible with both Linux and MS-Windows and is licensed under the GPL as Free Software.

<http://www.modbus.org/tech.php>