Early American Literature is published three times a year by the University of North Carolina Press. The editorial board is chosen in consultation with the executive committee for the MLA's Forum on Early American Literature. EAL's province is American literature through the early national period (about 1830).

Membership and subscription fulfillment is available through a partnership with Duke University Press. A subscription to Early American Literature is a benefit of membership in the Society of Early Americanists. For rates visit <https://www.societyofearlyamericanists.org/membership>. Non-membership subscriptions are $50 for individuals and $88 for institutions. Subscribe online at <https://uncpress.org/journals/early-american-literature/>. For more information about subscriptions and memberships, contact Duke University Press Journal Services: 888-651-0122 (toll-free in the US and Canada) or 919-688-5134; subscriptions@dukeupress.edu.

The newest issues of Early American Literature are available digitally through Project MUSE; older issues are available through JSTOR, EBSCO, and other online platforms.

Contributors are asked to adopt the MLA style described in The MLA Style Manual in the preparation of manuscripts and to omit their name from the body of the essay. Early American Literature now accepts submissions through Submittable at <https://eal.uky.edu/submissions>. Send editorial correspondence to marion.rust@uky.edu. For more information visit <https://eal.uky.edu>.
