OPTICSPLANET BRINGS NEW REVISION BALLISTIC GOGGLES TO ITS STORES

OpticsPlanet has long made it their mission to provide superior eye protection to military, law enforcement and shooting professionals. The addition of Revision Ballistic Goggles brings them one step closer to their goal.

Northbrook, Illinois – December 22, 2011 – OpticsPlanet, Inc., the leading online source of top quality gear for both pros and demanding hobbyists who accept only the best hunting and shooting gear at low prices, is ecstatic to bring Revision Goggles to its network of stores. Hunters, shooters, soldiers and law enforcement professionals can find these Ballistic Goggles OpticsPlanet.com, OpticsForYou.com and Tactical-Store.com.

OpticsPlanet's excitement over this new line of goggles is due to the care and attention that Revision puts into all of their protective eyewear. Much like the Revision Sawfly Protective Sunglasses, the various lines of Revision Ballistic Goggles have taken military requirements as a starting point and driven past them. These goggles provide superior protection against dust, sand, wind and flying debris.

Revision lenses do more than keep foreign elements out of the user's eyes. They also provide a completely undistorted image. Though the lenses are tough as nails, they produce no astigmatism or prism effect, so shooters do not have to second guess their aim due to blurriness or optical illusions.

As every shooter is different, Revision put together a number of different kits for their tactical goggles that allow users to customize performance. The Revision Eyewear Bullet Ant Deluxe Kit comes with three interchangeable lenses: Clear, Solar and Yellow. The Clear lenses are ideal for indoor and nighttime use. The Solar lenses are best for direct sunlight, and the Yellow lenses add contrast in cloudy or hazy weather. And every lens is chemically engineered to be anti-fog, anti-scratch and resistant to chemicals, so the image will never be obscured.

The Revision Desert Locust Ballistic Goggle Essential Kit offers quickly interchangeable lenses that fully protect the eyes while providing a superior image in a variety of situations. The air vents and increased surface area on the Desert Locust Goggles minimize fogging and give shooters greater peripheral vision, all while also increasing comfort to allow for longer use.

As leading provider of shooting protection, OpticsPlanet is thrilled to add these new Tactical Goggle Kits by Revision Eyewear to their stores. With quality trusted by military and law enforcement professionals around the world, eyewear of this caliber further completes OpticsPlanet's already extensive selection of tactical and protective shooting equipment.
