APA Statement on DSM-5 Text Error Oct. 31, 2013

Pedophilic disorder text error to be corrected

The American Psychiatric Association's (APA) Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition (DSM-5) has recently been published after a comprehensive multi-year research and review of all of its diagnostic categories.

In the case of pedophilic disorder, the diagnostic criteria essentially remained the same as in DSM-IV-TR. Only the disorder name was changed from "pedophilia" to "pedophilic disorder" to maintain consistency with the chapter's other disorder listings.

"Sexual orientation" is not a term used in the diagnostic criteria for pedophilic disorder and its use in the DSM-5 text discussion is an error and should read "sexual interest." In fact, APA considers pedophilic disorder a "paraphilia," not a "sexual orientation." This error will be corrected in the electronic version of DSM-5 and the next printing of the manual.

APA stands firmly behind efforts to criminally prosecute those who sexually abuse and exploit children and adolescents. We also support continued efforts to develop treatments for those with pedophilic disorder with the goal of preventing future acts of abuse.

Note: This wording change also applies to text in sexual masochism disorder and sexual sadism disorder, where "orientation" is replaced by "interest".
