

Allocators Insights for Investment Professionals

Stay aware of how Chief Investment Officers (CIO) evaluate the global markets.

A change in asset allocation strategies by a leading CIO can move markets. Increasing global market volatility makes it challenging to staying informed on macro and micro trends in asset allocation – a critical factor for any investment professional.

Squirro Allocators Insights App provides portfolio managers, analysts, and other investment professionals with an AI powered solution.

GET AUTOMATED INSIGHTS

HOW IT WORKS

Squirro tracks the most relevant global institutional and CIOs, gathers and aggregates their publications. Squirro analyzes CIO publications in near real-time and detects the critical changes: the identification of the relevant signals “underweight”, “neutral”, and “overweight” in context with the various asset classes and sub-classes.

A FundFire survey of 450 research analysts found that they spend roughly two-thirds of their time, on average, collecting and understanding data before knowing whether the information is material.”
