

TORONTO GEOMETRY COLLOQUIUM

David I.W. Levin

University of Toronto

“A Glitch in the Matrix: The Surprising Weirddness of Physics-Based Animation”

Michal Piovarci

IST Austria

“Towards Spatially Varying Gloss Reproduction for 3D Printing”

Follow us @GeometryToronto
<https://toronto-geometry-colloquium.github.io>

The Toronto Geometry Colloquium is a live weekly hour-long webseries showcasing geometry processing research. Topics range from computer science, mathematics, and engineering including 3D deep learning, computational fabrication, and computer graphics

Illustration by Spencer Ashley