

Anne Molloy

Ms. Molloy is the Executive Director of the Posner Fine Arts Foundation. Prior professional experience includes information systems analyst in the defense and transportation industries; strategic planner, capital projects manager, and operations manager also in the transportation industry; project manager for a start-up of a transportation company; freight transportation consultant for a regional planning agency; and most recently, synagogue librarian.

Ms. Molloy is a trustee of the Posner Foundation of Pittsburgh. She is an emerita trustee at Rodef Shalom Congregation, and she sits on the Executive Board of the World Union for Progressive Judaism.

Ms. Molloy has a B.S. from Simmons University, an MBA from The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and a MLIS from the University of Pittsburgh. She is married to Henry Posner III, and they have three grown children.