4	Some students take online classes instead of going to the campus. Online classes have benefits, such as saving travel time and improving students' understanding through watching recorded classes repeatedly. However, some students may have computer problems and feel lonely because they do not meet other students directly on campus.
5	I think the number of such movies will increase in the future. First, from the perspective of movie companies, a certain amount of sales can be expected from such movies. If the original novel is a well-known work, fans of the novel will come to see the movie. Second, from the perspective of publishing companies, such movies might help increase the sales of the novels. These movies might lead people to learn about the original novels. For these reasons above, I think the number of such movies will increase in the future.
