New service “Recruitment Accelerator” to help customers build their recruiting websites
-Create attractive job postings with our packaged service at a reasonable price

Insource Co., Ltd. (hereafter referred to the Company), which makes everyone enjoy working, and Insource Marketing Design Corporation (hereafter referred to IMD), the Company’s 100% owned subsidiary, announces that we have launched “Recruitment Accelerator”, a service of websites creation.

The information that job-candidates want to know is “specific job description”, “company culture” and “working conditions and achievements” according to our survey report. In order to ensure smooth recruiting activities, it is necessary to keep all the necessary information on the recruiting website up-to-date. Through our packaged service Recruitment accelerator at a reasonable price, we can help customers easily build recruiting websites that accommodate the concerns and opinions related to the recruitment process.

“Recruitment accelerator” is a service that creates a recruitment website to fit your company's needs. The completed site is compatible with major job search engines such as Indeed and Google Job Search.

The job descriptions with employee photos allow job candidates to get an image of what they will look like after joining the company, which will easily motivate them to enter the company and attract more job candidates.

IMD, a team of website creation specialists, and our company with our strength in HR development and web marketing, will provide one-stop support services from recruitment to training for customers.
