

Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG)

The Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (German Research Foundation) is the central, self-governing research funding organisation that promotes research at universities and other publicly financed research institutions in Germany.

The DFG serves all branches of science and the humanities by funding research projects and facilitating cooperation among researchers.

The Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (German Research Foundation) encourages international cooperation between scientists and academics in all its programmes.

The DFG promotes...

- ▶ international project cooperation
- ▶ international mobility of scientists and researchers
- ▶ the internationalisation of German universities

The DFG is also represented as an institution in various scientific and science policy organisations and bodies at an international and a European level.
